A partnership between Hardis Group and ACSEP for integrating Reflex WMS

With this agreement, Hardis Group strengthens its ecosystem of partners in France: ACSEP, a recognized specialist in the field of logistics information systems, adds a new warehouse management solution to its catalogue by becoming a distributor and integrator of Reflex WMS.

Grenoble, September 6, 2016 - Hardis Group, a digital services company and software publisher, and ACSEP, specializing in the digital Supply Chain, announced the signing of a partnership. Under the terms of the agreement, ACSEP will now distribute and integrate Reflex WMS, as a complement to the solutions that the company offers its customers. Hardis Group continues its strategy of building up an ecosystem of recognized, complementary partners to distribute and deploy its warehouse management software.

Since it was created in 2005, ACSEP has been offering consulting, integration and publishing of software solutions to improve the logistics performance of companies. The company has about thirty employees and provides support for around fifty renowned clients in the areas of distribution, e-commerce and logistics services.

Historically an integrator of the warehouse management solution Infolog and editor of IzyPro, its own WMS, ACSEP wanted to expand its offerings to its customers. In signing this partnership, the company will now be offering WMS benchmark services and integration and support for Reflex WMS.

For four years, Hardis Group has had big ambitions for developing its turnover, for direct and indirect sales, and innovation. "Hardis Group invests continuously in R & D to offer innovative technological solutions adapted to the logistics needs and challenges of its customers. Their staff share the same values of commitment and proximity as we do," says Thierry Puharré, ACSEP's president.

After signing a strategic partnership with IBM two years ago to integrate Reflex WMS with key accounts and international projects, and with AEPEX in the Netherlands, this agreement marks Hardis Group's determination to continue its development strategy in indirect sales, in France and abroad. "We want to capitalize on the recognized expertise of ACSEP staff in the field of WMS to offer an accelerated approach to migrating to Reflex for companies who are in a renewal phase. ACSEP staff already have consultants trained in Reflex WMS and joint deployment projects are already under way," says Yvan Coutaz, deputy general manager of Hardis Group.
